“ I thank God I had my military background because I never would have thought years later that I would become homeless and that military background would help get me off the street.”

VA is here FOR YOU.

We understand that your path may look different—and we're ready to walk it with you.

We provide support and services designed with your needs in mind:

- Prevention services to keep you from becoming homeless
- Emergency or transitional housing for when you need a place to stay right now
- Permanent, affordable housing in your community
- Employment services to help you secure a job
- Outreach to help you learn about VA homeless programs and our health care system
- Tailored health care that respects and addresses the unique experiences of women Veterans

support for you & YOUR FAMILY

We understand that many women who served are also caregivers.

That's why:

Supportive Services for Veteran Families (SSVF) can help your entire household, including access to child care services and assistance tailored to family needs

HUD-VASH (Housing and Urban Development – VA Supportive Housing) supports not just individuals, but whole families, helping you create a stable foundation

Our services recognize and address barriers women Veterans may face, like trauma, safety concerns, or feeling invisible in Veteran spaces
